Harnessing the Power of Everyday Activity
Presenter: Allie Schmiesing, OTR/L, OTD
Stanford inpatient occupational therapist
A diagnosis of cancer is far reaching and survivors of cancer often face barriers to participating in their important and meaningful daily activities. Occupational therapists harness a holistic approach to health and utilize these everyday activities to optimize function and independence. They help address common side effects of the treatment and cancer through interventions targeting individual’s goals, routines, and environments. This seminar will examine the role of occupational therapy across the continuum of care, and will offer an overview of interventions available to support survivors in living their lives to the fullest.

January 29, 2020
6:30 pm – 8:00 pm
◆ Stanford Health Library
   211 Quarry Road
   2nd Floor, Suite 201
   Palo Alto
Registration required. Call 650-725-9456.

Patients Narrative Matters: Role of Talk Therapy in Cancer
Presenter: Linda Suk, Licensed Clinical Social Worker, Behavioral Health Clinician
When patients come into a therapy room, they are curious about other patient’s experience- how other patients deal with the unexpected change overload, tolerate the distress of uncertainty while questioning the usefulness of talk therapy when it does not change the reality of having cancer.

The lecture will demystify what happens behind the closed door. It will examine the psychological impact and the emotional changes of moving through various stages of cancer. It will also explore how patients have created a successful blueprint to integrate management of cancer while finding a way to continue on with their lives. Guidance will be provided in identifying therapy resources and how to find a point of entry for accessing therapy support.

April 21, 2020
6:30 pm – 8:00 pm

What Matters Most:
This 3-part series aims to empower you and your loved ones to seek out and have access to care which recognizes your individuality and helps you pursue the goals that matter most to you. Please join us as we discuss the support and resources available to you through this lecture and workshop series.
You can attend the parts that are of interest to you, or attend all three!

Part I: Advance Care Planning and What You Need to Know Now
Presenters:
Grant Smith, MD
Stanford School of Medicine
Ramy Salah, MD
Palo Alto Medical Foundation

In this workshop format, we’ll be engaging in hearing what truly matters to you. Whether you are a person living with a serious illness, a caregiver of a loved one, or the healthiest you have ever been, having some form of a care plan in the event you are unable to speak for yourself is important for providing you and your family with the comfort and confidence knowing that your wishes will be honored no matter what happens. Come learn about the questions you should be asking yourself, your doctors, and your loved ones. You may even leave with an advance care plan completed!

Part II: Transdisciplinary Care in Palliative Care: Why You Want Spiritual Support and Social Work on Your Team
Presenters:
Kafunyi Mwamba, DVM, DMin, BCC
Palliative Care Chaplain
Stanford Health Care
Gary Bertuccelli, LCSW, ACHP-SW
Palliative Care Social Worker
Stanford Health Care

Physical symptoms are not the only issues that arise when patients and families are living with a serious illness. Social, spiritual, psychological, and existential concerns are all common. In palliative care, we have specialized social workers and spiritual support team members who are able to help meet and address these needs. Come learn about why social workers and chaplains might be a great addition to your team as part of this engaging workshop.

Part III: Palliative Care Myths, Misconceptions, and Setting the Record Straight

Presenter:
Grant Smith, MD
Stanford School of Medicine

In this lecture presentation, we’ll review palliative care as a medical specialty that focuses on caring for people and families living with a serious illness. Palliative care focuses on providing relief from the symptoms and stress of an illness and aims to improve quality of life. It can be appropriate for people at any age and at any stage of illness, and it can be delivered alongside curative treatment. Come learn about what palliative care can offer and why it might be a great addition to your team.

Chair Reiki

Chair Reiki sessions help you relax, reduce stress or discomfort, and decrease pain. In this technique, while sitting in a chair, the Reiki practitioner either gently puts his/her hands on your shoulders, head and upper parts of the body, or holds their hands slightly above your body in various positions to help your energy flow more easily. Reiki is very relaxing and often promotes a sense of peace and well-being.

Every Monday and Wednesday
1:00 pm - 3:00pm

Every Thursday
10:00 am - 12:00pm
No session: 1/2, 3/12, 3/19, 3/26, 5/28, 7/2

Walk-ins welcome. Call 650-725-9456.
Healing Touch

Healing Touch is a holistic energy therapy that supports healing on physical, emotional, mental, and spiritual levels. Practitioners use light touch to balance, clear, and energize the human energy field so that an individual’s immune system can better support self-healing. Healing Touch complements traditional cancer therapy and can support a reduction of anxiety, depression, fatigue and nausea, lymphedema and neuropathy.

Appointments are available at Hoover Pavilion and Cancer Center South Bay.

If you have never experienced a Healing Touch session and want to discover the benefits call 650-725-9456.

We also offer 15 minute chair healing touch sessions for patients and caregivers while they’re receiving treatment in the infusion areas at the following locations:

- Cancer Center Palo Alto
- Cancer Center South Bay
- Redwood City Outpatient Center

Healing Partners

This program is personally designed for patients who have already experienced Healing Touch sessions. Patients are paired with the same provider for eight weekly sessions.

Locations, times and dates customized to you!

For more information, or to be placed with a Healing Partner provider near you call 650-725-9461 or email cscphealingpartners@stanfordhealthcare.org.

Help for Parents with Cancer: Parenting at a Challenging Time

Provided by the Stanford Cancer Institute, this program aims to help parents effectively navigate the challenges of raising children while undergoing treatment for cancer.

Clinicians work with parents to gain insight into what they might expect from their children, how to know when children are coping effectively and when additional help is warranted.

For questions or to set up an appointment call 650-497-8840 or email pactstanford@stanford.edu.

Lipstick Angels

Lipstick Angels provides a clean-beauty and wellness program that offers personalized, oncology-sensitive beauty and skin care services here at Stanford. They offer patients and their guests the opportunity to experience a variety of spa services such as moisturizing facials, comforting hand massages, and make-up applications, including brow tutorials, during infusion center visits.

Look for the Lipstick Angels schedule posted in the infusion treatment areas at Stanford Cancer Center’s locations in Palo Alto, Redwood City, and San Jose.

Palliative Care

Experts help you experience relief from the symptoms, pain, and stress of a serious illness. No matter your age or stage of your illness, they work closely with you and your doctors to help you navigate your healthcare and understand your treatment options. Their goal is to help you gain physical, emotional and psychological strength, and ensure you and your family experience the best possible quality of life. We welcome self-referral.

For more information, visit https://stanfordhealthcare.org/medical-clinics/palliative-care.html.

For questions call 650-724-0385.
Quit Tobacco at Stanford Cancer Center

Quitting tobacco takes a team. Tobacco Treatment at the Stanford Cancer Center is a free service that provides coaching, medication, counseling, and resources to help you and your family member quit tobacco. Support is available in-person and through telemedicine.

For questions call Maura Lau at 650-285-9468, or mauralau@stanfordhealthcare.org.

The Stanford Storybank
Created in Partnership with StoryCorps

Everyone has a story. Storytelling emphasizes our shared humanity and deepens one’s understanding of self and others. StoryCorps stories are a 40-minute conversation audio-recorded between two people. Stories can be archived in the US library of Congress in Washington, DC as part of the oral history project.

The Stanford Storybank creates space for patients, families, and staff at Stanford Health Care to share their experiences, providing an opportunity for all to learn, connect, heal and inspire.

To share your story or ask questions about this project, email cicare@stanfordhealthcare.org.
